

An Energetic Universe

Energy, what is it? It is the fuel that starts your fire. It is the heat that warms your house. But, is there more to it? Is there energy in the most finite of objects? The answer may shock you. The truth is: Everything is energy. From the electricity of a light bulb to the very thoughts in your mind, everything in existence is energy manifested. Energy is everywhere and we are constantly pulling it in. We are like magnets attracting whatever force is like our own. Therefore, everything in your reality has been affected, manipulated or brought in by you, consciously or unconsciously.

This is important. This means that we are truly the creators of our world. This is very, very good news, as most of us feel powerless in our lives. We feel as if the world is either scripted about and we have little to no effect, or that the world is random and some people simply have the short end of the stick.

This is NOT the case.

Short stick, long stick, everything has its purpose, and all situations change and fluctuate. Our purpose on this Earth is not to drag out a meaningless life, allowed a handful of experiences and croak shortly after. You are not here to live the “respectable” life. You, as Eckhart Tolle beautifully stated, “are here to enable the divine purpose of the universe to unfold”.

No, not all of us will become filthy rich, but this is not important. If you understood how our money system worked you’d detest that fabricated piece of green filth in your pocket, anyways. Abundance is great wealth of resource, and while money seems to be the most powerful resource there is, it, thankfully, is literally worthless. Its true value lies in the cotton that was used to create it. Most reading this will deny and claim, “One will not eat without money” and, sadly, most will agree. If this is you, if that is your question, than you are missing the truth of my words. Money is an illusion, given power only because we place value in it. True value needs no conceptual identity. And, while money is currently the tool of society, if you ever wish to be free of slavery and truly find abundance, you must know what it is you believe in...

...And then discover what is the reality!

It is energy that drives this world. It is energy that provides. Without it, there would be nothing. Without the propulsion to move there would be no automobile. What gives propulsion? ENERGY! Without motivation to “do”, you would have no life. What provides motivation? ENERGY!

Energy is the core, the foundation of everything. It is the source of all creation. We have blinded ourselves to this truth so badly that we now only see the conceptualized reality we have been TAUGHT to believe in. This is like believing a video game is real. Take an X-BOX 360 and a popular game, such as Grand Theft Auto. Within this game there are limits, boundaries, people, cars, even food to eat. You have a life within this game. At times it seems real. You must act in accordance to the boundaries of its limitations and be the character you are assigned. And, while this is an immensely entertaining experience, one would be insane to believe that it is more than trillions of strands of data, compiled and focused into a virtual experience.

Is “real” life so different?

Remember that every particle, atom and molecule was once forged into stars. Now, it is your cell-phone, your coffee mug, your television, even your air! These implications are of grand importance. For, if we believe that we are anything other than concentrated energy, we are living the grandest of lies.

So, what does this mean for you? This means you are now to wake up and realize the truth in your own reality. Discover what real existence is like. More importantly, discover the impact you truly have on your own life. See the ways in which your inner energy affects and manipulates the energy around it. See how your life is managed by your inner states of feelings and emotions.

For, to do so, is to truly live!
